TRANSFER TIDBITS

The Bachelor of Arts in Social Welfare program (BASW) is a 67-credit, capacity-constrained major. Satisfying minimum eligibility requirements does not guarantee admission.

Applicants who submit a UW transfer application for Autumn (February 15th deadline) plus the departmental BASW application for the Social Welfare major (April 15th deadline) can expect to receive an admission decision in approximately May to June, notifying them of their admission status both for the university and for the Social Welfare major.

Completing an Associate's degree does not guarantee completion of general education requirements, and some Washington community college degrees transfer more smoothly than others. For example:

- Associate in Arts Direct Transfer Agreement (AA-DTA) degrees tend to lead to an easy transfer of credits that align well with UW graduation requirements.
- Associate in Human Services degrees often do not transfer as easily; students transferring with this degree may need to spend additional time at UW to earn credits and complete graduation requirements. It is also possible students may not have sufficient credits (65 transferrable quarter credits) to be eligible to begin the BASW program.
